PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

We are a Catholic Christian community striving to live as disciples of Jesus Christ. Nourished by the Eucharist and enlightened by the Word of God, our Pastor, Parish Staff and Parishioners welcome all. With faith in His Gospel, we are called to love as Jesus loves and, therefore, serve our community through the sharing of time, talents and treasure to support programs of evangelization and social justice. Our commitment encompasses serving the youth through education, sports and formation. We seek to develop services for the elderly and homebound. Finally, we wish to challenge and sustain all parishioners through spiritual and educational activities.

A Sunday Devotion

I Am The Living One who sees you always. I see into the very depth of your being. Not even one of your thoughts escapes My notice. My intimate awareness of everything about you means that you are never alone—in good times or in struggles. It also means that I want to cleanse your thoughts from their sinful tendencies.

When you find yourself thinking in a loveless, hurtful way, confess it to Me immediately. Ask Me not only to forgive you but to change you. You don't need to belabor your confession, as if you had to convince Me to extend grace to you. I went through tortuous execution and utter separation from My Father so that I could remove your sins as far from you as the east is from the west. I delight in forgiving you!

Remember that even now I view you clothed in radiant garments—My perfect righteousness. And I can already see in you the glorious vision you will be when heaven becomes your home.

From the Music Director

I Am the Bread of Life

Organist Suzanne Toolan joined the Mercy Sisters and began teaching high school choir. When the Mass switched from Latin to English after Vatican II, she started composing hymns and credits a seminarian with popularizing her music. “He began to hear my things and take them to the seminary. That’s how my songs got out.”

In 1966 she was asked to write a song for a music educators’ conference. She “struggled with it at school, and I tore it up.” Sr. Toolan said. “This girl came out of the infirmary and said, ‘What was that? That was beautiful!’ So, I Scotch-taped it up.” That song was “I Am the Bread of Life.” Today, communities around the world, in many denominations, sing it in 25 different languages.

On her 80th birthday, Sr. Toolan published her memoir, also titled I Am the Bread of Life. It tells the surprising story behind her most famous composition, the story of her ministry and offers her insights on ritual, silence, music and prayer. She is aware that some don’t care for the song, but takes criticism in stride, and wonders herself about its popularity. “It really shouldn’t work for the congregation. It’s too low. It’s too high. I ask myself: ‘Why does it work so well, then?’ I think it’s the scripture is so strong with its hope-filled refrain: And I will raise you up on the last day.”

This Week's Readings | USCCB

The Sunday Liturgical cycle is divided into three years: A, B, and C. In Year A, we read mostly from Matthew's Gospel; in Year B, we read from Mark's and Chapter 6 of John's; and Luke's in Year C. The Gospel of John is read during the season of Easter every year. In this Liturgical Year B, we interrupt readings from Mark's gospel, and for five Sundays, we shift to readings of John Chapter 6 and the Eucharistic teachings of Jesus. The Chapter has 71 verses, making it one of the longest in the Gospels and New Testament. The miracle of the multiplication of loaves and fish in today's Gospel is recounted six times in the New Testament. It is the only miracle of Jesus narrated by all four Gospel writers.

What the crowd had seen and heard about Jesus stirred them to follow Him across the Sea of Galilee. The large crowd followed Jesus not because they were hungry for food. Their hearts yearned to hear and be filled with the Word of God. Jesus was moved with compassion for them, asked them to recline on the vast grassy field, and desired to feed them by buying food. God sees and fills our needs, often unexpectedly and without us asking for help or even recognizing those needs. It is interesting to see Jesus' disciple, Philip, questioning Jesus about having enough money to buy food for the multitude when asked. Had Philip already forgotten that Jesus turned water into wine? This is when a young boy steps forward and freely offers his provision of five barley loaves and two fish. Jesus uses the offering to give five thousand men more than they can eat. Though it might appear inconsequential, his selfless generosity is a powerful example of giving. Jesus did not feed the multitude with food that He brought from heaven. He used the food provided by the boy to feed the people. This emphasizes how, as a community of faith, we provide for the needs of our brethren. God takes what we offer, multiplies it, and gives it to the people in need. We are called to share as God works through us. We are entrusted with helping one another with corporal works of mercy.

The miracle of Jesus blessing, breaking, and distributing the loaves and fish foreshadows His institution of the Eucharist at the Last Supper. Just as the bread blessed and multiplied by Jesus nourished the multitudes, the Eucharist provides nourishment and sustenance to our souls.

Let us reflect on a message given by Pope John Paul II addressing the young people of Scotland in 1982: "Jesus miraculously fed those five thousand people and still had something left over. It is exactly the same with your lives. Left alone to face the difficult challenges of life today, you feel conscious of your inadequacy and afraid of what the future may hold for you. But what I say to you is this: place your lives in the hands of Jesus. He will accept you, and bless you, and he will make such use of your lives as will be beyond your greatest expectations!"

The Catholic Steward

Stewardship Education and Reflections on the Weekly Mass Readings

The servant and the little boy in our readings today are excellent examples for us as Christian stewards. The servant gave the very best of what he had, and the boy gave all that he had, then God did the rest.

A key component of living as a good steward is constantly evaluating our lives, particularly our relationship with God to ensure we are not just scraping by but rather giving God our entire lives.

We should ask ourselves — ‘how am I giving God my time, using my talents, and sharing my treasures?’

We are called to give God adequate time each day. If we don’t plan for this time, likely, He won’t get any. We need to find what works best for us so that God can become a more significant part of our daily lives. We are also called to put our gifts and talents to good use too. The servant and the boy teach us that it is not up to us to decide how our gifts will affect others. God will do that. All we need to do is to give it well.

Lastly, the servant reminds us that we are called to give the first fruits of our treasures. It is easy to give something; it is difficult to give the finest gift. Giving our best requires us to reevaluate our priorities in life.

When we strive to live out our call as Christian stewards by entrusting all that we have been given to the One who graciously gave us these gifts, we will be blessed beyond measure. As we begin a new week, let us spend some time evaluating our relationship with God by asking, ‘what is my very best, and am I giving it to God?’

SUMMERTIME PLANNED GIVING SUGGESTIONS – PART 1

As you enjoy the summer months and the chance to take some time for yourself, you may want to take some time to check your important financial documents to make sure you and your family are protected. For example, are the beneficiary designations for your pension or retirement accounts up to date? Many people assume their spouse and/or children are the named beneficiaries, but sometimes an accurate beneficiary designation has not been made. Taking the time to check doesn't take long and is important to make sure your intentions are accurately shown.

CATHOLIC ESTATE PLAN

BONES

- will or trust
- funeral directions

BRAINS

- power of attorney (POA)
- strategically assign beneficiaries

HEART

- medical directive
- ethical will
- charitable legacy

Another summer checkup is the beneficiary designations on your life insurance policies. Again, over time and through some of life's circumstances, the designations made when you took out the policy may not accurately reflect your intentions today. It only takes a short time to do the review to make sure your family is protected.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact Bob Pape at Catholic Foundation for Brooklyn and Queens at 718-965-7375, ext.1621 or at rpape@cfbq.org. A little summertime review provides additional peace of mind for an enjoyable summer season.

"Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit." Matthew 28:19

Week of July 28, 2024

Saint Ignatius of Loyola: Soldier for Christ

Founder of the Jesuit order, St. Ignatius of Loyola is also known as the "Soldier for Christ." During the turmoil of the Protestant Reformation, Ignatius offered the Church a new spirituality of devoted service to Christ and evangelization.

St. Alphonsus Liguori | Catholic Saints

Born to a noble Italian family and known as the "Prince of Moral Theologians", St. Alphonsus Liguori was a great preacher, lawyer, bishop, theologian, and Doctor of the Church. In this episode of Catholic Saints, Augustine Institute professors Dr. Sean Innerst and Dr. Ben Akers discuss this holy man, drawing wisdom from his life and works to aid Catholics today.

Convinced: Why Would Anyone Become Catholic?

Why would intelligent, successful people give up careers, alienate friends, and cause havoc in their families...to become Catholic? As he was considering his own move into the Church, Donald Johnson traveled around the country to get the story for himself, from some of today's most interesting and articulate Catholic voices
