PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

We are a Catholic Christian community striving to live as disciples of Jesus Christ. Nourished by the Eucharist and enlightened by the Word of God, our Pastor, Parish Staff and Parishioners welcome all. With faith in His Gospel, we are called to love as Jesus loves and, therefore, serve our community through the sharing of time, talents and treasure to support programs of evangelization and social justice. Our commitment encompasses serving the youth through education, sports and formation. We seek to develop services for the elderly and homebound. Finally, we wish to challenge and sustain all parishioners through spiritual and educational activities.

Sacrament Meetings

Even though we just wrapped up Sacrament Season with Confirmation two weeks ago, it's time for us to do it all again! This past week, we held all of our Student and Parent Meetings for the families who have children planning to receive First Reconciliation, First Holy Communion, and Confirmation!

This time together allowed for Ms. Laucella and Father Marc to walk through what the next two years will look like for these families who are preparing to celebrate these sacred and special moments in the lives of their children. Special thanks to all of our students for their attendance, and to our parents who joined them on this first step in their journey of deepening their relationship with Christ. Please be sure to keep all of our Sacrament students in your prayers!

Reasons Your Child Should Join Our Children's Choir!

Did you know there are so many benefits to children singing in a choir? There are lots of scientific studies that prove physically, singing can help increase lung capacity, strengthen muscles, and improve the immune system; while mentally, it helps release happy endorphins, helping them keep calm, and self-regulate. Singing can help build empathy, develop a positive group identity, and make new friends. It helps develop good memory. It aids brain development by causing neuroplasticity, which is the brain's ability to change. It encourages communication and increases vocabulary and language skills. Finding their own voice leads children to increased confidence in public speaking and improved personal presentation skills. Those who have a meaningful connection to a choir may be more likely to make long-term commitments as they grow up. And it's an activity where they're not on their screens!

We're trying to resurrect our parish Children's Choir. If you know a young person in 4th – 8th grades who is willing to try singing with us, 45-minute rehearsals are going to be Tuesday evenings from 6:30 – 7:15 downstairs in the Msgr. Finnerty Parish Center starting this Tuesday, October 15th. This choir will then sing at least once a month at the Sunday 11:00 Mass, so children need to be available to attend both rehearsals and Mass. Hope to see your child this Tuesday!

Word of Life

“An old Irish proverb says, ‘It is the shelter of each other that the people live.’ Indeed, we are created to depend upon one another and walk together in suffering. But when family members or friends approach life’s end, we may not know how best to “shelter” them. Here are some concrete ways we can compassionately care for them:

A Reflection from Love and Serve

This Week's Readings | USCCB

In his 1974 book, Author Robert M. Pirsig wrote about a South Indian Monkey Trap used by native hunters to capture monkeys. The clever trap is created by slicing a coconut in half, hollowing it, cutting a hole in one half just big enough to fit a monkey's hand, placing a ripe orange in the other half, and then tying the two halves together. Hunters would hang this trap on a tree with a rope and wait in hiding. Sooner or later, the smell of the orange draws in an unsuspecting monkey looking for a treat. The monkey puts its hand in the small hole of the coconut, grabs hold of the orange, and tries to pull it through, which, of course, is impossible. While struggling to pull the orange through the small hole, the hunters sneak up and throw a net over the monkey to capture it. Note: the monkey freely pursues the fruit and, in the process, loses its freedom; nothing physically prevents the monkey from escaping this trap; all the monkey has to do to free itself is to let go of the orange. Yet the monkey holds on and, in the process, gets trapped.

It does not matter if Mr. Pirsig's Monkey Trap story is true or a tall tale, for it helps us think of what we value and if our pursuit of what we value would lead us to undesired consequences. Do I seek God's love and desire to do His will above all else? Do I trust in His promises and provision? Have I embraced the call of discipleship that leads to eternal life? If not, what is the orange I'm holding onto?

In today's Gospel, a rich man earnestly asks Jesus what he must do to inherit eternal life. Jesus' response saddens the man, for he had "many possessions," according to the Reading. "You are lacking in one thing. Go, sell what you have, and give to the poor and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me." (Mark 10:21). Pursuing wealth for financial security, like the monkey not letting go of the orange inside the Monkey Trap, can mislead us into a life of servitude to money, or to work, influence, fame or anything that we prize here on earth. When we are focused on these things, our priorities change, and so do our values. Material things capture our attention, time, and energy. We are led into thinking that if we have enough money, enough things, enough power, and influence, we will be happy. We think these things can bring us financial security and, with them, joy and fulfillment. Is it best for us and our families when material things get our reverence, adoration, and devotion? Is that not idolatry?

"Let your life be free from love of money but be content with what you have, for he has said, "I will never forsake you or abandon you." (Hebrews 13:5). Jesus's life and the lives of the saints are examples of how we should live ours. The Bible warns us against attachment to material wealth, enslavement to possessions, and the pursuit of power, prestige, and status. Instead, God invites us to embrace a life of humility, generosity, and service. Let us reflect on what we esteem in this life and prioritize spiritual over material wealth.

Go in Peace to Love and Serve the Lord.

Persecution and Defense | The Early Christians | Episode 3

Christians are attacked by the imperial authorities, by the public opinion through slander, and by pagan intellectuals. How did they react? Not with violence, but by conquering minds and hearts. This was achieved mainly by the shining figures of the Apostolic Fathers, building stones of the Christian tradition. Special focus on the danger of Gnosticism, and the Apocryphal writings. Who were the Apologist Fathers? How was their dialogue with the pagan culture?

Saint Teresa of Ávila: A Study in Perseverance
